BERENGARIA NEXT Will Leave Enough for Medicinal Purposes; Won't Confiscate Ships.

BULLETIN.
Washington.—New and drastic instructions designed, it was said, to hasten seizure of beverage liquors aboard the incoming foreign liners, were sent Saturday by Assistant Secretary Moss of the treasury department to customs and prohibition officers in New York.
The new orders were made necessary, it was officially stated, by the action of Dr. E. K. Sprague, public health officer in New York, in granting a request by the medical officer of the British liner Berengaria to retain its entire supply of liquors as "medicinal."
The permit granted by Dr. Sprague in the case of the Berengaria, has been ordered withdrawn by the acting surgeon general, who received his orders from Assistant Secretary Moss. Mr. Moss then notified customs and prohibition agents that no "unreasonable" grant of liquors could be allowed by the treasury.

HARDING AGAINST WORLD COURT AS NOW CONSTITUTED

SHOWS LEANING TOWARD IRRECONCILABLES IN PARTY.
FROM CLEAR SKY
Entire Issue Driven Into Realm of Uncertainty, Writer Declares.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Enroute with President Harding—President Harding has killed the chances of American participation in the world court as at present constituted.
Throwing the weight of his influence toward the "irreconcilables" of the republican party, which wants the world court divorced absolutely from the league of nations, Mr. Harding has antagonized the democrats, whose support is essential to make up the needed two-thirds in the senate and has driven the whole issue into the realm of uncertainty.

To get 40 nations to agree to the president's new proposals, especially when the world court's constitution involved delay as diplomacy is a leisurely process with endless red tape.
The public, therefore, can hardly expect action for many months after the next session of congress begins because Mr. Harding will ask the senate to agree first on the changes desired in the world court and then he will try to get the republican governments with the hope that they will change the whole world court idea to fit the suggestions of the American senate.

BETTER DAYS ARE AHEAD, PRESIDENT TELLS KANSANS

OPTIMISM IS KEYNOTE OF HUTCHINSON ADDRESS.

CREDITS PRAISED

Executive Rides Binder and Shocks Up Grain in Big Fields.

Hutchinson, Kan.—President Harding brought to the agricultural middle west Saturday a message of optimism with a prediction that the worst of the post-war depression had passed and that gradual improvement could be reasonably expected.
The chief executive reviewed the measures taken by the government to aid the farmers, placing at the forefront the farm credit legislation enacted by the last congress. The legislation when carried out, he declared, "will be capable of furnishing the American farmers, for the first time in the history of agriculture in any country, adequate investment and working capital on terms as favorable as those accorded to commerce and industry." Furthermore, he said, it will tend to restore fair prices for farm products and aid the farmer in lifting debts incurred during the period of depression.

President Harding went into a 100-acre Kansas wheat field, near here Saturday, drove a binder, shocked up some of the harvested grain in both the Kansas and Ohio ways and obtained first hand information as to the problems of the wheat farmers of the midwest.

The chief executive demonstrated that he had not forgotten his farm, or boy days in Ohio and as he climbed down from the tractor which drew the ten-foot binder, Governor J. M. Davis of Kansas, exclaimed:

"You are some farmer, Mr. President," and several of the farm hands called out, "You are all right, chief."

Talks to Children.
Prior to the trip into the country, the president spoke briefly to a gathering of school children in the city park and late in the day went to the city fair grounds to deliver the third prepared address of his western trip.

Arriving at the wheat field, on what is known in this part of Kansas as the Cheater O'Neil farm, the president and Mrs. Harding left the motor car and walked to the gate into the field. A number of people had gathered and the president, who was wearing a straw hat, with several harvest hands.

The president awoke Saturday morning in the midst of a big wheat field. He knew the grain from Kansas City, the train had run on schedule and after passing Newton, Kansas, about 5 a. m., it was run on a siding.

The chief executive greeted members of the train crew and had a long talk with S. H. Yokum, the engineer. "As a boy, one of my ambitions was to be a steam engine," the president told Yokum, "and now I am here in my conversation. 'Some of that old ambition still remains and I would like to go up and ride with you in the cab, but for the time being, I guess they wouldn't let the president do it.'"

SATURDAY COOLER; MERCURY SINKS TO 97 DEGREE POINT!

And now abideth half hose, full hose and rolled hose, but greater than these is—garden hose. It is hot, hot, hot, little bit cooler Saturday than Friday.

On the eighth day of the initial heat wave of the season, the thermometer registered 97 degrees at 1 p. m. Mr. Mercury got his start Saturday with 85 at 8 a. m.

Friday was the 11th day of summer. It also was the hottest day of the season, with a high of 98, the instrument at the fourth weather station at Janesville Electric company hit 100 degrees.

For the last three days that weather man, kept in Chicago by the government of the U. S., has been showering upon us the hope that there will be local thunder showers. He says so again Saturday and of course it probably will happen, but the will come on Sunday. He wiselike says:

"Little change in temperature." It was not quite such good sleeping Friday night. Dignity still remained in it, but it was really hot, and the scribe hit the porch and dreamed of breezes that weren't.

We're glad this is Saturday. We can make our bath a cold one.

Milwaukee.—T. M. Hammond, 55, prominent Milwaukee business man and former member of the University of Wisconsin board of trustees, died Thursday. He was born at Clinton.

HARDING IS OPPOSED TO PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Kansas City, Mo.—Consolidation of the railroads of the country into a small number of systems is a rational, justifiable step, full of promise towards solution of the transportation problem, President Harding declared Friday night in his second prepared address of his western trip.
"If the system consolidations will not afford the solution," he said, "then our future will enforce a costlier experiment and the one great commitment which I hope the United States will forever escape."
The executive expressed the belief that this one great commitment—government operation—would be a colossal blunder, which would destroy the incentive of the railroads to improve, create regional jealousies and impose incalculable cost on the public treasury.

BLIND ARE BEING TAUGHT BY MAIL

Winnetka Man Tells of Free Courses—All Blind in Useful Work Is Plea.

Five years ago, William A. Hadley, Winnetka, Ill., was forced to give up as a teacher in the Lake View high school because he was stricken blind. Today, Mr. Hadley stands before the National Association of the Workers for the Blind in convention here and told them of his correspondence course for the blind which was established by him two years ago and which has met with remarkable success with 300 students at the present time. Every state in the United States, Japan, China, Canada and other countries. There is no other institution of its kind in the world and the efforts of Mr. Hadley have been commended by Winnetka and Chicago people who have given splendid financial backing.

Courses in history, English, short story writing, and many other subjects are being taken by blind persons and as many text books are on hand are loaned. No charge is made for the courses. Books are being printed and sent to the blind as fast as possible. Hadley's success is an example of determination to do something for others who do not see. Sixty blind persons have finished courses.

Talks on Chest Plan
Sherman Conard, director of Community Welfare Federation, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., spoke on the chest plan in relation to work for the blind and the affiliation of blind associations with federations. He declared that any blind association could easily affiliate with a federation, because of the opportunity it gives for the sentimental appeal in securing help from seeing people.

Federations, he declared, are getting away from using the sentimental appeal to secure financial assistance. He was applauded when he said that the greatest public work of the past and that the funds for blind of school age and rehabilitation of the blind will come from public funds not as charity but a right of citizenship.

Advocates Work for Blind
Percy Angove, Lansing, state supervisor of vocational rehabilitation, spoke on shoe repairing as a profitable occupation for the blind. Mr. Angove said that of all the problems of the blind, the greatest is finding satisfactory employment for those of unemployable age without which the sighted as well as the unsighted must live. He said that the rehabilitation program of civilian vocational rehabilitation which aims to re-establish the handicapped person on a remunerative basis, making the unfilled support.

Shoe repairing has opened to the blind a new occupation which is practical in every respect, he said. From 12 years' experience in one job, Mrs. Eva B. Palmer, executive secretary of the Cleveland society for the blind, spoke on the subject of increasing the efficiency of the blind. She said that the public does not see blind people apart because they cannot see but an account of things which have been said to them. She said she would ask the blind people to be honest and ask close friends if they have objectionable habits and overcome them. Develop a good personal appearance, which requires being informed on the latest modes, a wide variety of interests and a hobby, she advised for the workers.

"If you work at a repetitive process all day, play in a band at night. If you do much brain work during the day, make baskets or bird houses in your leisure time. Visit places. We cannot all go to Europe, but trips can be made to nearby towns. Then when you return home you will have something to talk about to your personalities, petty criticisms and complaints," she urged, in developing greater efficiency.

Remove Corner Soliciting
Much of the success of blind workers is dependent on the attitude of the public. "It is essential that we take from sight of all who trade on their hands."

"One man with a sign 'blind' on his hat and offering shoe laces on a busy corner confirm the idea of uselessness so long associated with 'blindness,'" Mrs. Palmer said. "The passerby drops a dime, having no thought or knowledge of the scores of blind who are doing worth while work in that city. The newspapers are all too prone to make a job story out of the poor blind man shivering on a windy corner, but little realizing that he has refused honest work at which, to be sure, he would not reap the harvest which the sentimental pity of the passing crowd produces. There is a verse in Isaiah which says: 'The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light, and I like to apply this to the blind. After centuries of the darkness of denied opportunity they are seeing the great light of usefulness and unhappiness and the chance to complete self expression.'

Discussions of the papers during the session were first on the program for the afternoon session.

TALK ECONOMY AND PRACTICE EXTRAVAGANCE

Madison—Sen. W. A. Titus, Ford du Lac, whose vote is a determining factor in the tax fight authorized a statement today in which he said that he was "for" which the series of tax bills which the senate is passing to increase the burden upon the people.

"What most of those sponsoring these revenue bills want to do," the senator said, "is to talk economy and practice extravagance. I am opposed to any bill that will permit increased expenditures."

"This legislature cannot continue to pass tax measures and then go on and increase expenditures. I thought to economize on expenses. The state should reduce expenditures rather than increase taxes."

Senator Titus declared that if a tax measure could be devised that did not increase taxes and could be shown to be equitable, he would support it.

BIG SEWER JOB AT LAST FINISHED

$100,000 One-Mile Project, in Construction 2 Years, Now in Use.

After nearly two years of work by the Milwaukee Construction company, Oshkosh, the $100,000 Eastern avenue outfall sewer job is at last completed and is now in use. The finishing touches were put on the project this week in the form of a cut-in for the sanitary sewers running from the Chevrolet and Fisher body plants and these now empty into the new sewer. The sewer, which was discharged into the river directly north of the plants.

The Milwaukee company has moved recently all of its equipment, including steam shovels, pile-driver and clams, to Deloit where it has another contract to fulfill.

Although the Eastern avenue job has been accepted officially by the committee on public works and the city council, it was approved by City Engineer C. V. Korch and Assistant City Engineer Joseph Luntz, Jr., in an inspection made Thursday.

Used by Canning Factory
Besides the 16-inch sewer from the Chevrolet plant and another main from the Milwaukee Construction company also discharges into the new main. There is also a line connecting with the 12-inch main of the big foundry.

In addition, connections have been made for two or three houses and it is now possible for all homes in the Eastern avenue and adjacent territory to have sanitary sewer service by laying laterals to connect with the new pipe.

Is One Mile Long
The sewer is approximately one mile in length, extending from a dead end at the intersection of Belmont avenue west to a point below the city sewer bridge where it discharges into Rock river. Two shafts were built at the McKee boulevard intersection and every 33 feet along the pipe have been left places where connections may be made with laterals.

The pipe is 54 inches in diameter at the lower end, 36 inches at the upper end and 45 inches in the middle.

Work on the job was begun in July, 1924, and it will probably be completed by the city as completed. There were numerous delays chief of which was that caused by bowing up of a section laid under the river.

For several months it was necessary to keep the Rock river open for the Rockford & Interurban cars to be routed up South Franklin street instead of South Main street, and the street was closed to automobile traffic for a long time.

The job was started under the second administration of Mayor Mayor T. E. Welsh after the state road of funds had been depleted and action be taken to resolve severe conditions in Spring Brook.

City Engineer Korch will make a final report to the council later on the cost of the job.

County Pythans Get State Honors

Rock county was honored at the grand lodge convention of Knights of Pythians, which closed Wednesday at Oak Bluffs, by the election of Charles A. Still, Deloit, as representative of the world wide grand lodge convention to be held next year at Toronto, Canada, and Fred W. Gillman, Evansville, as vice grand chancellor.

Dr. G. B. Thuermer and Mrs. S. L. Dersch were local delegates, the latter attending the Pythian temple. Other state officers are as follows: Fred C. Larsen, Delavan, grand chancellor; M. M. Elliot, Milwaukee, grand keeper of seals and records; Otto C. Kandell, Milwaukee, grand master of exchequer; Fred J. Knoell, Milwaukee, grand prelate; John G. Eager, Racine, grandmaster at arms; A. M. Olson, Wausau, grand inner guard; Fred J. Peterson, Milwaukee, grand outer guard; H. S. Rhodes, Lancaster, trustee for three years, re-elected; Frank Eberfeld, Milwaukee, tribune, elected.

The 1924 convention will be in Madison.

Foundation Will Be Made Stronger
Councilman Boyd C. Gardner, chairman of the public buildings committee, is conferring informally with other members of the council regarding reinforcing the north wall of No. 11th street to avoid the danger of collapse arising from excavation for the Franklin theater adjoining it. Official notice has been served on the city by Harry P. Jones, builder of the theater, and it is probable that the north part of the foundation will have to be extended into the ground to correspond with the seven foot depth of the theater footings. In the meantime, work on this part of the theater has been stopped, and workmen are digging for footings on other parts of the property.

TWO MORE APPLY FOR SOFT DRINK LICENSES
Among the latest applicants for non-intoxicating liquor licenses at $20 each are: Hansson, 112 West Milwaukee street, and D. L. McCann, 116 Corn Exchange. Their applications will be acted upon at the next meeting of the city council July 2. So far there have been only four applicants for this kind of license, the other two being Herman Hughes and Homer Dorn. July marks the beginning of the second year this license ordinance has been in effect.

ZANIAS HIGHEST BIDDER AT SALE
James Zanias, plaintiff in the action of Zanias vs. Philip J. Kearney, was the highest bidder at Sheriff Fred Beley's sale conducted by Sheriff Fred Beley Friday morning. Lot 24 in Mitchell's addition was purchased by Zanias for $500. The execution sale was conducted in accordance with an order issued by the circuit court, some weeks ago, to satisfy the creditor claims of Zanias against Kearney.

GRIMSHAW BACK FROM DOUGLAS
Pearl Grimshaw, captain of the local Tank company, returned Thursday from Camp Douglas, where he attended an officers' training camp for members of the Wisconsin National Guard. The training was given to the officers to prepare them for the general encampment of the guard in July. About 125 officers attended. The training period closes Saturday.

HARDING AGAINST WORLD COURT AS NOW CONSTITUTED

will have been contemplated by a united party and the dangers of a divided republicanism in the campaign for re-election will have been averted.

This sensational change in the entire political situation came out of a clear sky. No indication of the president's change of tactics had been given except that it was known how powerful was the pressure being exerted by the "irreconcilables" to win the president over to their viewpoint and prevent a split in the republican party.

So Mr. Harding, by his St. Louis speech, practically has put the world court issue on the shelf indefinitely. Incidentally, the president threw overboard the doctrine of his own secretary of state, Charles Evans Hughes, as well as those of Elihu Root, the distinguished republican statesman, who is the author of the system of binding judges through the council or assembly of the league which now is to be abandoned in favor of an experiment alternative.

Mr. Harding would prefer a united republican party on the world court plus such democratic strength as he can muster. But his St. Louis speech will drive away the democrats who are planning to support him for re-election in the old line of warfare over the league of nations.

Wants United Party
The move toward party harmony is prompted also by the knowledge that a united party means certain re-election next June and a better chance of victory in the subsequent election. Whenever the republican party is united, the momentum carries it to victory—that's the tradition upon which Warren G. Harding has been brought up in politics.

The president insists that he has not advanced or retreated. He says this knowing, of course, that the critics will not agree with him but will construe his proposal as a retreat into the bosom of Chairman John T. Adams of the republican committee, and into the arms of the "irreconcilables." Yet Mr. Harding conceives his position in the republican party as mediator and not dictator. He feels he is not in the dispute between the senate and the other foreign change governments—he is merely the referee of umpire suggested here for reconciliation. He proposes indeed the unprecedented course of getting the senate to agree to an international agreement before even initiating negotiations with other powers to learn whether they accept.

This up-shot of it all is delay on the world court and a readiness on the part of President Harding to make peace with the insurgents in his party some kind of a world court gesture by America is better than none, he thinks. His closing words are significant of how anxious he is to drop the matter for the time being.

I shall not attempt to coerce the senate. I shall make no demand upon the people. I shall not try to impose my will upon anybody or anything. I shall embark upon no crusade."

Looking at it dispassionately, the president has sacrificed the world court proposal he originally favored but he has saved the republican party from civil war.

BRODHEAD
Brodhead—George Darby left Tuesday for Middlebury, Vt., to attend college. He will visit a week in Boston and Buffalo and will also take in Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Charles Zuercher was taken ill while visiting in Appleton and is confined to her bed.

The Brodhead federated clubs have signed up to have the Jewell Mutual chautauqua next year. Several business men also signed.

Since cement pouring was started, route 20 has been closer from the south end of Center street than the north farm. Center street will be the next thoroughfare paved. The Janesville Sand and Gravel company is furnishing the material.

Mrs. P. D. Swann returned from North hospital Tuesday. Mrs. Chris. Chase was called to town by the death of his mother.

Mrs. Lee Rowe and daughter, Virginia, are visiting in Chicago.

The Misses Kathryn Dixon and Charlotte Lyons will leave soon to attend the University of Wisconsin summer school.

true deference to political exigencies he goes along with the president. It is said that when the world court was first presented Mr. Hughes remarked in effect: "I shall not try to pass upon the political expediency of this, Mr. President, but this is what America ought to do in foreign policy."

The president's speech at St. Louis is an effort to heal the sore developed by the original proposal of the world court. Mr. Harding will frankly that he would like to have America enter the court and choose judges as at present, but he is willing to propose a new method of selection so as to harmonize the conflicting differences in America.

The question naturally arises as to what necessarily prompted Mr. Harding to make the suggestion at this time when peace is not so imminent in the senate and there has been no show down. The answer is that Mr. Harding felt he might get the two-thirds votes necessary to ratify the world court protocol only by a coalition of democrats and republicans—in other words by a split in the republican party.

Mr. Harding would prefer a united republican party on the world court plus such democratic strength as he can muster. But his St. Louis speech will drive away the democrats who are planning to support him for re-election in the old line of warfare over the league of nations.

ESCAPED REINDEER IS CAPTURED FOR NONESUCH PARADE

The reindeer that escaped from the Whitewater normal school zoo last winter by jumping over the fence has been captured and will be brought to Janesville on the Fourth of July. It. T. Glasco, Rock county agricultural agent, has made the final arrangements, according to the "Colonels Nonesuch" who are in charge of preparations for the huge circus parade feature of the 1927 Independence day celebration. This reindeer, they say, is a Rock county animal. Don't fail to see it. It is only one of the 60 big features that will help make up a line of curiosities more than a mile long.

After many dramatic incidents, a happy ending occurs. Players in the leading role have had much experience and are said to be good.

The South Seas from the "local" for "Lost and Found," the picture for the week-end. Pauline Starke and others star in a previous showing of the picture having shown it to be a romantic and colorful tale of the search of a sea captain for his daughter, who had grown up among the South Seas Islanders. A thrilling battle between two different native tribes, beautiful tropical scenery, and a well-woven plot are chief attributes of the picture.

CITY GETS GOOD PRICES ON COAL

Soft coal at $6.37 to $7.17, Hard at $15.67, Obtained by Bunching Orders.

Janesville will pay less for its coal for school, city hall and library use the winter of 1923-24 than the majority of cities in the state, and prices are unusually favorable as compared with those paid by Beloit, city authorities say. Contracts for most of the coal have been made by a committee made up of representatives of the water-works board, school board, city council and the library board. Fifty percent of the coal will be delivered in June, July and August, and the remainder will be put in the bins as it is needed. All prices are f. o. b. Janesville, further reduction in the price of coal.

Consumers' coal company and Brittingham and Elton were awarded the contracts. The matter was done by bids, and those two companies were found to have the lowest prices of the companies bidding.

From the Consumers' company will be purchased 300 tons of mine coal, Franklin county or Harborsburg coal, at $6.27, 750 tons of 2x6, same quality, at $7.17 from Brittingham and Elton, one car load of hard coal for the vocational school at $15.67 and one car load of Pocahontas at $10.67 for the library, has already been purchased, and further amounts will be bought at the same price.

Contracts for 1,500 tons of two-inch screenings for use at the water-works has not yet been closed.

Those on the committee are: A. J. Gibbons, chairman, city council; J. M. Feltner, vocational school; H. S. Haggart, water-works board; Fred J. Clemons, library board; and Charles Mungleton and Jesse Earle, school board.

In order to participate, it will be necessary for each boy or girl to meet in front of the city hall at 2 p. m. Saturday, June 30, so that we may give them instructions and line them up.

Remember the date, Saturday, June 30, 2 p. m.

DO YOU REMEMBER WAY BACK, WHEN?

"The Barnstormer" is a Charles Ray picture with the quality of youthfulness that always makes this actor well-liked. In it, he is again the successful country boy of "The Cloud Hopper," and he will be well liked. Other pictures for the Majestic's week are more or less known to Janesville theater-goers.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:

In a communication to the Gazette of Thursday, J. P. Cullen asks why, if the school board has no need of the school funds, they did not accept the offer of J. W. Kehoe to do the immediate grading around the building for $200, that Mr. Grant reports at the last meeting that the immediate grading cost $1,240, and that an explanation of this should be in order.

"Answering for the school board and for the building committee, the explanation is that Mr. Cullen has been misled by assuming that the school board had no need of the school funds. Mr. Kehoe's offer to do the grading for $200 was a very real and definite offer, and it was not until the very last moment that the school board decided to accept it. The grading cost $1,240 because the school board had to do the grading on the entire site of the building, and not just the immediate grading around the building as Mr. Kehoe's offer provided for.

200 FROM COUNTY AT MADISON FOR "STATION" PROGRAM

Rock county was well represented at "station day" held in Madison Friday. The county college of Agriculture, more than 50 men, took part in the convoy. It was estimated that 200 people were at the college demonstration from this county.

Interest was taken in the field tests, where different seeds and different types of fertilizers were used on test plots.

Every department of the college was represented, the exhibits being made in an excellent way. The results were shown in a novel way and a practical demonstration with swine. Pigs fed on a combination of pasture, tankage and corn showed more gain than those of the same age fed without good pasture.

"Henry Wisland, Jr., and Roy Cole, Beloit, has one of the three lime-stone grinding machines in operation. There was a picnic acid blasting demonstration.

Corn root rot, wildfire and other crop evils were shown and the best remedies demonstrated.

Visible information for station day is an event when the results of a year or more of testing and experiments is put on exhibition to the profit of the farmers.

Madison—The Dahl bill providing for creation of a single board of education to replace the board of normal regents, the board of university regents and the state board of education, was killed by the assembly today, 53 to 23, after being jockeyed around throughout the session. ### Stocks Collapse to New Lows for Year During Week

New York.—Stock prices collapsed to new lows for the year this week as a result of unusually heavy selling and liquidation and short selling resulting from the two stock exchange failures. Strong banking support and inside buying set in later and brought about a rally in which most of the loss was recovered. Bond prices moved in sympathy with stocks but the fluctuations were not so extensive.

Commodity prices as a rule also lost ground with another cut of 25c a barrel in Pennsylvania crude oil as one of the chief features. Sales of corn at $1.04 a bushel, a new low for the year, was the outstanding event in the cash commodity market.

Railroad shares offered stubborn resistance to selling pressure. Carloading statistics published this week exceeded the million mark for the second time this year and indicated that June traffic would be the best since 1914. President Harding's speech at Kansas City last night advocating railroad consolidation and opposing government ownership undoubtedly will be well received in financial district.

Heavy overproduction in the California fields is the predominating cause for the weakness of oil shares. The price of oil has been dropping since the beginning of the year, and low prices during the week. Copper dealers report a better domestic and foreign demand for the red metal which has been quoted at 13c a pound, and the basis of estimates published by the electrical industry the market for copper in that field this year is estimated by the copper and brass research association at about 125,000,000 pounds for high voltage transmission lines alone.

One of the most significant trade developments of the week was the report that the steel industry had been at a larger rate than that of May. There have been few cancellations and consumption and prices show little change.

Steel stocks continued with the rest of the market. Sugar shares showed slight improvement in response to the increased domestic demand for the refined product. The international market for sugar situation. Automobile production appears to have reached its peak.

Money rates continued moderately easy. The recent recovery in stock market movement in a shrinkage of $300,000,000 in brokers loans from the peak total of the year.

Passengers Are More in Evidence on Railroad Trains

Passenger business of the railroads of the United States, which has had a long period of decline, is now on the upgrade, and the outlook for a continuation of the gains made in the first quarter of this year are bright.

Passenger business of the roads is closely related to industrial activity, expanding in good times and contracting during depression. In 1901 times with people putting in full weeks at high rate of pay, they are liberal buyers of passenger transportation, not only during vacation time, but to visit friends and relatives at distant points.

Moreover, the traveling salesman is out in force, and notwithstanding the fact that the automobile is still an important factor in the railroad business, the outlook now is for a splendid summer season, and railroads generally have prepared for a large movement to mountain, country and seashore resorts.

The following shows comparative passenger revenues for March and the first quarter, showing the improvement in general and not confined to any particular section:

Some eastern roads also report an increase in special excursion business.

Net income of the Fisher Body Corporation for the year ended April 30, 1923, was $17,172,176 after taxes and charges, compared with $5,193,454 the previous year. After allowing for preferred dividends, the balance applicable to the common stock was equal to $34.98 a share compared with $28.93 in 1922. Interest disbursements totaled $232,100,000, compared with $228,203,000 last year.

"It would be difficult to find a banker, understanding thoroughly the Federal Reserve system, willing to admit that we could continue a first-class commercial nation, without the Federal Reserve banks or mechanisms similar to them," Mr. Puellicher said, "yet there is antagonism to the Federal Reserve banks based in a measure on some minor matter of the present misconception, but more generally on a misunderstanding of their purposes, or what should be expected of such a system."

"The banker, as much as any man, is to blame for the present misconception. He found Federal Reserve banks a ready scape-goat to blame for no matter what happened. It seemed desirable to call a lion a cat, easy to say that the Federal Reserve bank wished it. Innumerable requests, which should have been refused because contrary to good banking practice, were refused because the Federal Reserve bank of the district in question was not a bank."

LATEST MARKET REPORT

GRAIN

Weekly Grain Review.

Chicago.—Smashing of low price records for the season has been witnessed almost daily in the wheat market this week, but revival of export demand has partly reversed the loss. The sharpest break in values accompanied the announcement of a heavy failure on the New York stock exchange. Compared with a week ago, wheat Saturday morning was 4c to 5c lower, corn 2 1/2c to 3c up, oats 1 1/2c to 2c up, and provisions at 20c to 25c decline.

Opinions expressed by Secretary Wallace of the United States department of agriculture that low prices for farm products were largely due to over production were seized upon by bears as a ground for selling wheat, and then the shipment of the first car of new season hard red winter wheat this year was made the basis of a further selling movement. Rains in the northwest, where drought had been complained of, gave fractional emphasis to bearish sentiment and so too did the fact that crop reports from the southwest were less unfavorable than for some time previous had been the rule.

Entirely aside from the superiority of the Velie car itself, you have a direct, economical advantage in being within driving range of the great Velie factory at Moline. Drive home and save the freight. We will be glad to arrange it for you.

Now consider this car itself—a Six at $1275. Consider Velie's genuine—following among those who appreciate unusual value. Consider the fact that 60% of Velie owners repeat.

Yet no former Velie even approaches this present Model 58, in beauty, finish, power, speed or economy of operation.

And the famous, vibrationless, Velie-built, valve-in-head motor, automatically lubricated even to the piston pins, embodies features found only in the highest priced cars and in aircraft construction. It is not unusual for Velie owners to average better than twenty miles to the gallon.

You are within easy driving distance of the Velie Factory—or if you do not wish to drive, the distance is so short that the freight saving is considerable, and factory service unsurpassed. Open and closed models. See us for details.

QUICK ACTION BRAKES EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2 1/4 inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

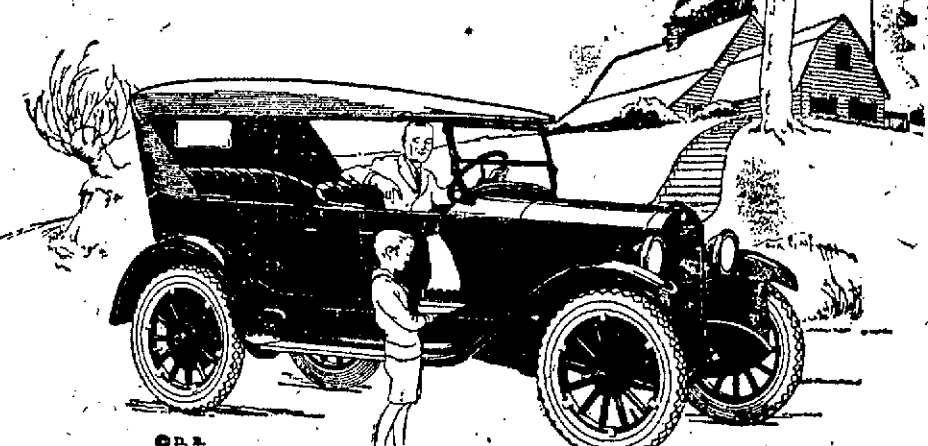

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

The price of the Touring Car is $890 f. o. b. Detroit—$980 delivered.

BOOST SHOW HERDS FOR BETTER SALES

Exhibits to Attract Attention to Farm Products of County.

By LEWIS C. FRENCH
The mission of the Rock County Farm Bureau to show the prize livestock and agricultural products at a series of exhibits to attract attention to the county, and second—to create a better market for the surplus livestock and farm products of the county.

It is a remarkable undertaking, both in size and importance. It means something to every farmer and every business man in Rock county, as a community advertising plan. Successfully carried out, it means that Rock county will advance further toward her goal as a national leader in agriculture. It pays to be a leader.

"Have something to sell" is advice handed out by agricultural authorities. But even more important than having farm products to sell is to have buyers ready and willing to come to the show.

Advertise County
There is no better advertising than fair exhibits, backed by proper publicity.

Think what it means to have around 18 carloads of Rock county livestock at the Wisconsin state fair, and eight or 10 carloads invade other fairs. There is much favorable comment on the part of the livestock stock authorities and on the part of dairy cattle on an extensive western trip. This trip will naturally attract a lot of attention to Wisconsin, and Rock county will be the show place to attract still more to the state and the county. It means business for the farmer who has something to sell, and for the stock raiser, both grades and purebreds, and the seeds and grains. An advertised product always sells the best and the Farm Bureau is out to make Rock the most advertised county in the United States.

Organize Sales
Rock has great expectations of "setting the world afo" with championships. However, confidence is being placed in the county's ability to organize sales on a county-wide basis. The venture is planned out not to win money but to break even on expenses, and have effective organization for the sale of agricultural products on a county-wide basis.

Actual count made on letters received in the last year from buyers wanting Rock county stock shows that 75 per cent of the calls have been for good grade milk cows. Gaining of reputation by county herds mainly increased the demand for high grade cows and purebred sires as far as cattle are concerned.

Livestock development is by far the most important problem in Rock county and livestock sales will be the biggest source of income of farmers. An effort will be made to organize sales on a fair, county-wide basis, so that every farmer has the same opportunity to display his stock under rules that will protect the buyer as well as the seller.

Rock county must employ every means possible to protect and foster her reputation.

No "Dead Timber"
There is not time to inspect every animal that is eligible for showing. Breeders can help by sending in information on animals they consider good candidates for the Rock county show herds. No "dead timber" can be taken along and make the venture "pay out financially." The animals must win premium money, for competent caretakers are being secured by Jack C. Nesbit to show the stock.

Other counties are watching this interest what Rock county will do in the show circuit. Many are following Rock county's example of forming show herds and the competition will be keen.

As the result of the progressive efforts of the Farm Bureau the county's reputation as being "the home of quality livestock" is becoming general. The following is told as a typical example:

A young man in Madison and had the name Rock county on a box. A cattle breeder from Iowa happened near and seeing the name, walked up and introduced himself, saying, "You're from that county that has real cattle—especially Shorthorns. I am coming up this fall and buy a herd."

When outside people think of dairy cattle they turn to Wisconsin and it is good business to focus their attention so far as possible on Rock county first.

HEREFORD BREEDERS' PICNIC ON ROBINSON FARM IS POSTPONED

The Wisconsin Hereford breeders' picnic scheduled to be held on the farm of C. C. Robinson & Son, Evansville, has been postponed from July 13 to a later date. Mr. Robinson, as president of the Wisconsin Hereford breeders' association, is taking the western trip on the Wisconsin Dairy special.

Rock county has three animals on this special—the Milking Shorthorn from the Harvey Little herd and a two-year-old Brown Swiss cow from the herd of Bert Skinner, Beloit.

An effort was made to secure Howard Miller, Janesville, to go on the trip, but Miller was unable to leave his work.

DAIRY COW SALES SHOW AN INCREASE

Wisconsin dairy cattle sales to cut of the state buyers for the first five months of 1923 indicate this year will break all records for shipments. In the five month period the sales were 3,000 more animals than during the corresponding months in 1922. The monthly total was 15,207 head, and during May alone the sales ran to 3,125 head. The total for the 1923 period was 42,000 head. The figures are obtained from the health certificates for interstate shipments filed in Madison.

MAKING COUNT ON ALL "SCRUB" BULLS

Township assessors of Rock county are making a survey of the "scrub" bulls used in Rock county herds. Accurate information is being obtained for a complete survey of the county. As a part of the livestock development program, a purebred bull campaign will be undertaken. Rock county soon after the area test. No breeding value is allowed on any males under the new federal indemnity policy. Breed associations will be called upon to supply good quality bull calves to replace the scrubs, at low prices.

TOBACCO HALF PLANTED
More than half the Wisconsin tobacco crop is reported to have been set in the fields. Rain is needed badly for all crops, including tobacco.

WISCONSIN'S LARGEST JUNIOR CLUB

Rex Photo.

"Come out and see my pig," says the boy or girl on many Rock county farms. It might be a dairy calf, baby beef, sheep or an acre of corn, for in all around 500 youngsters are interested in club projects this year. That means better agriculture for Rock county a few years hence.

MILK CONSUMPTION SHOWS AN INCREASE

Consumption of milk for household uses increases from 40 gallons per capita in 1921 to 50 gallons in 1922. Milk consumption in the cities increased two gallons per capita, but lack of increased consumption in the rural districts where the milk is produced, pulled down the average to a gallon per person. A decided increase is noted in the use of milk chocolate, 100 million pounds being used.

WILL SHOW STOCK

Introducing Jack C. Nesbit, who will have charge of the Rock county livestock exhibit at the fair this season.

After grabbing his sheepskin from the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, Nesbit took the Rock county livestock show and started looking over the show herd prospects. During the last week he has absorbed enough of the "Rock County First" spirit to even argue with a California native son of Vaukeshia, Holstein breeder as to which county has the best livestock. Being trained in animal husbandry and experienced in handling show stock, Nesbit was named by the Farm Bureau to supervise and be responsible for the success of the Rock county show herds. The college authorities will tell you Nesbit is one of the best show men in the country and Rock county found that out at the last Janesville fair where he led in the champion Holstein cow and bull.

A number of Rock county men will accompany the show stock, taking charge of the different exhibits and all premium money pooled to pay expenses.

Every one is boosting to win back the blue sweepstakes banner for Rock county.

"AGGIE" TEACHERS HERE JULY 16-21

Program Being Arranged for Both Field Work and Lectures.

BY L. E. JACKSON

Rock county will act as hosts to the agricultural teachers of Wisconsin during the period of July 16 to the 21.

In the past it has been customary for the teachers to meet at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture for a program of an educational nature. This year the teachers are to meet in Janesville in order to come in contact with actual teaching work as carried on in the high schools and in the field. The Janesville convention is unique in that it is the only meeting of its kind held in the United States.

State and federal authorities connected with the Smith-Hughes agricultural work are watching this meeting and success will mean, no doubt, that the plan will be adopted generally.

Work Is Valuable
Few people possibly realize what agricultural teaching in the high school means to the future of farming. In Wisconsin 2,000 or more boys are receiving information and training in practical agriculture every year. An agricultural teacher works with his students the year around. He works with them through the class room periods and then helps them with their projects—some form of a practical farm problem.

The program for the convention is not yet fully complete. The mornings will be used in visiting prominent livestock farms and viewing projects of the Janesville high school boys. Much time will be employed in judging livestock. Teachers must become proficient judges of livestock in order to properly teach the subject to students. Rock county high school boys have many worthwhile and interesting agricultural projects in progress this summer. Many acres of

SILVER OBJECT TO FIXING OF PRICES

Government Warned Not to Pass Laws to Price Farm Products.

Arbitrary governmental price fixing for farm products is neither desirable nor necessary. Co-operative marketing, intermediate credits, warehouse receipts, and crop insurance will enable the farmer to get a proper stable price for what he produces.

By an automatic system of governmental price fixing the minimum price would become the maximum price. The farmer would be out-looked by the other two-thirds of the population under any such scheme of governmental price guarantees. In effect the producer would become a slave of the government. The very democracy of the republic would be imperiled.

Crop Insurance

These dangers to the proposed price fixing bill are vigorously outlined by Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau federation, in a report he later addressed to Senator Arthur Capper, head of the farm bloc. Mr. Silver thanks the farm bloc for the highly creditable legislation passed by the last congress and said farm insurance, particularly in the intermediate credits and warehouse acts, by adding a system of crop insurance, which he urged the next congress to provide. Mr. Silver declares that the farming industry will have a complete scheme of credits for production and by the new commodity price act, insurance policies and warehouse receipts, the farmer could market his products co-operatively and distribute them in an orderly manner throughout the country, thus insuring a market for his products at a glutted market immediately after harvest.

Surplus Problem

In his letter Mr. Silver takes note of the surplus problem. He shows that by the new commodity price act, co-operative marketing, and warehouse receipts, the farmer will have his surplus in his own hands and he will automatically plan to dump himself of the burden through balanced production.

Those who belong to the price fixing school of thought have a laudable objective, believes the Farm Bureau's legislative director, but they do not take into account the serious difficulties their method would create. Help him take away the farmer's right to negotiate with the other organized groups and would place him between the horns of a fixed price and a glutted market. Without the incentive to export and to trade, the farmer would lose his individuality and his initiative. He would become a governmental dependent. This seems a sorry method when contrasted to the high type of democracy which co-operative marketing and adequate credit are seeking to develop.

Must Help Self

Let the farmer alone to work out his economic situation on the road which he has chosen. Help him, but let him be the master of his own fate. He will then get a just price, he will have homes comparable with the homes of other people, farms equipped for efficiency, houses furnished for comfort and beauty, good roads and automobiles, education—a new day of agriculture.

RICHARD MARTIN FIRST TO WORK FOR HUMANE LAWS

By A. E. FREDERICK
State Humane Officer

The first step in the enactment of humane legislation was taken in 1822 when a bill providing punishment for the ill treatment of cattle was introduced into the British parliament by Richard Martin an Irish nobleman, later nicknamed by King George IV as "Humanity Martin."

To Richard Martin belongs the credit for the first conviction under the law for the protection of animals, the appearing against a driver who had beaten a donkey. The misused animal was dragged into court to show the evidence of its master's cruelty, and the driver was found guilty.

Two years after the passage of the law Martin realized that animals could not always be brought into court as evidence against cruel masters, and so he interested his friends in forming a society for the enforcement of his anti-cruelty act. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was thereupon organized to which title Queen Victoria later added. From this society originated the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, founded in New York in 1866 by Henry Bergh.

The American society has since spread so that today, as a result, state and local humane societies are found throughout the country.

Many of these societies combined, forming the American Humane association, with headquarters at Albany, N. Y. Dr. William O. Stillman is its president.

Contemporary with Henry Bergh was George Thorndike Angell, a Boston lawyer. He was the founder of the American Humane Education society, in 1868. Dr. Francis H. Rowley of Boston is his successor.

Great Clashes Due Sunday in League; Janes Meet Deers

With the race tightening up as teams get down to more solid business, Sunday's games in the southern Wisconsin baseball league may present some surprises for the readers of Monday afternoon's papers.

The Janesville Boosters started on the winning rampage last Sunday after leading the circuit all season in slugging, licked Edgerton, and now go over to Deerpark to meet the wicked willow wielders of that town. When last these two outfits met, the first and in the last two innings overcame a big Janesville lead to annex a 13 to 11 victory.

But, this time, the Janes confidently expect to see a change. Not only are the locals encouraged by their entrance into the win column, even if they were a trifle late, but they are hitting the brass tacks smartly on the head. Better base running and a deeper appreciation of the inside stuff of the game a week ago, helped the Boosters bump off the Tobacco city.

"Pede" on Mount
Lanphere, the cucumber southwester, will not be for Janesville. The Milton college star did pretty work last Sunday and will be in shape to move down the bluegrass swingers. In the full time innings, Lanphere, who has handled the apple with a soft finger. The fans did not know if "Pede" is one of the kind that does not complaining of his own physical condition.

This will be the last appearance for several weeks for Lanphere with Janesville. Early next week he will go down to the military academy, where for the past three years he has been summer athletic instructor. The following week, Charlie Bick, another left hander, will be in the box for the Boosters.

A large crowd will follow Janesville. The best route is by the concrete to Edgerton and on to Abion, thence right on the highway 100 to county trunk C, thence turn left and straight ahead.

Battle of Big Hubs
Edgerton will hit at home Sunday afternoon. The Tobacco city team will play Stoughton at Edgerton's driving park. This will be a clash augmented by the intense rivalry of the two towns.

Edgerton will have Earl Whitford back on the mound. "Rollie" Williams, now that college work is all over, will be in the outfield.

When last Edgerton met Stoughton at the Hub city, Stoughton was the victor, 6 to 1. That was the only game Edgerton had lost until they met the Janes last week. They will be battling to overcome the Dane county organization and with improved condition should provide fans with a smart game.

Port to Meet Cambridge
Cambridge will journey to Fort Atkinson Sunday. The league leaders will be on their toes in the hopes of adding to their lead in the league. The Robins are now one game ahead of Edgerton, but are fighting on Stoughton trimming Edgerton while they, themselves, wipe up Cambridge.

Though Fort had an easy victory in the last meeting of the teams, Cambridge has been coming up and playing stronger baseball. It will be a test for the Fort, for they are entering that period when the breaks may turn against them. That is baseball.

Jeff's Looking for Big Year; Go Strong Now
Jefferson—Beaver Dam, the new entry in the Inter-county league, replacing Juneau, withdrawn, will be here Sunday afternoon.

The Jeffs can duplicate last Sunday's performance in which they defeated Waterloo, they should win easily. Kleinke, who went 13 innings at Waterloo last Sunday, is expected to be in good shape again. The sudden reversal of form of the Jefferson team should draw a great crowd on their home grounds.

Other games of the district Sunday will see Reesville playing at Watertown and Waterloo invading Lake Mills.

Form Motor Club for Milwaukeeans
Milwaukee—The Milwaukee Motor club which is with the American Automobile association, was organized at a banquet Friday night when John C. (Ikey) Kavel was elected president.

The sponsors of the organization will start a campaign immediately for the purpose of enrolling 10,000 members.

Good roads, safety, protective legislation and other things of interest to the automobile owner are objects of the organization. Fred E. Zimmerman, secretary of state, pledged support of his department to all the aims of the club. Captain W. S. Gilbreath, manager of the Detroit Motor club, M. O. Eldridge of the A. A. A., told about the movement to all the aims of the club. For the Crocetics, Manogue, Huger and Manogue will work.

Don Dawson, bearded two weeks ago, will be back with Janesville.

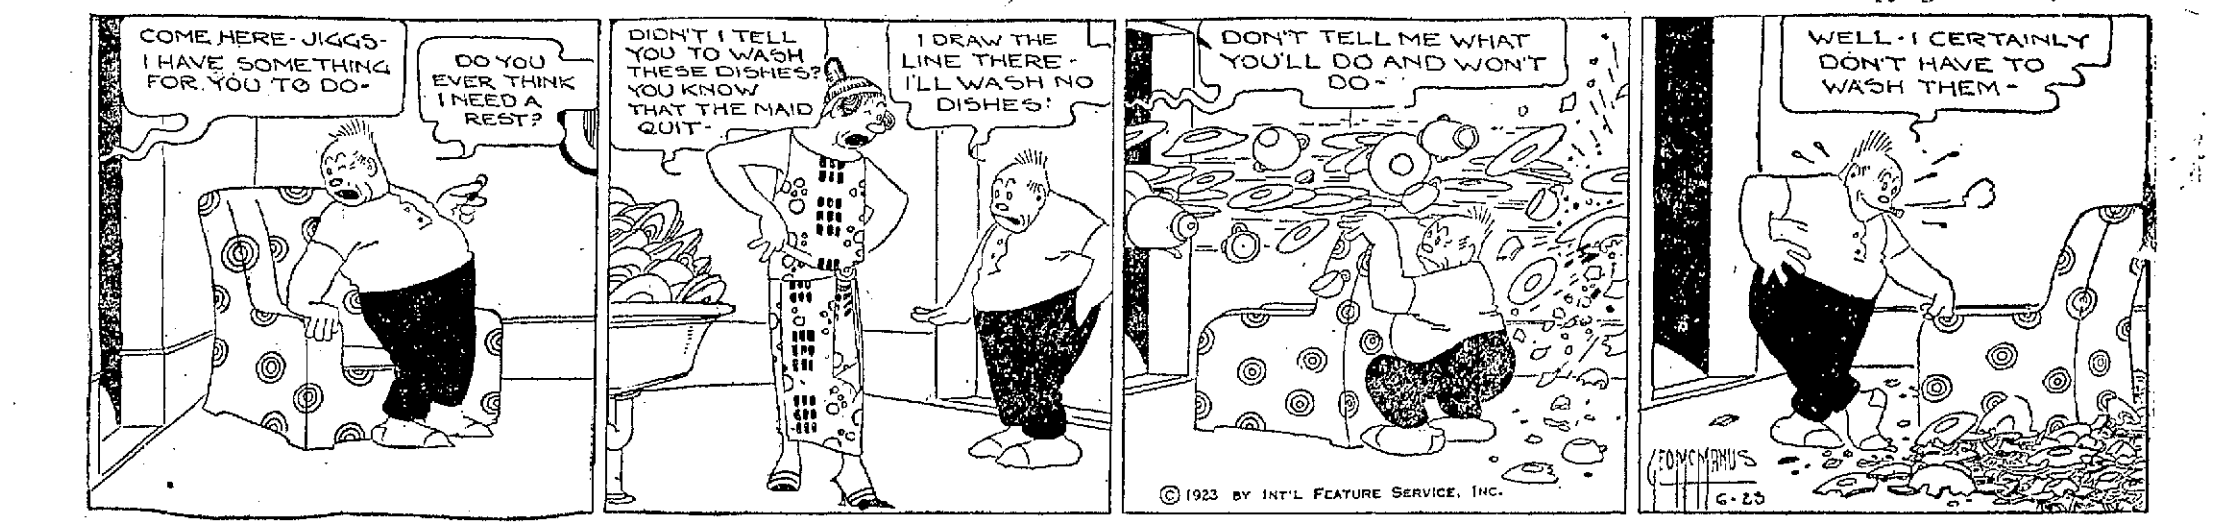

ST. PATRICK'S PLAY CRESCENTS SUNDAY
St. Patrick's boys trimmed this team, 4 to 1, recently. The Crescents will be out to get the victory back, promising a stiff game.

BRINGING UP FATHER

TOM DIDN'T HITCH HIS WAGON TO A STAR, BUT HE GOT THERE

It isn't necessary to hitch your wagon to star to get some place in this world.

Thomas (Battling) Gibbons, who has started training for his great chance at the world's heavyweight title, will tell the universe that he doesn't need a star to get some place in this world.

For Gibbons had no thought or ambition to ascend to the top-most pinnacle of boxing fame when he knocked out Buck Croise. The fact that Croise was nearing the end of his days somewhat lessened the glory of the K. C.

The next year Gibbons licked Billy Murray, Billy Mike and Harry Greb, among others. Gus Christie was his most formidable opponent the next year. In the years up to 1921, he took on all the good middleweights.

In the summer of 1920 he joined the heavyweight ranks and left a string of second-rate heavies prone on the canvas.

And as he waded through the big boys he found the years spent in the gym helping Brother Mike had given him boxing sense.

Gibbons may not stack up with Dempsey as a puncher, he may lack the rugged disposition to go through a long grueling fight with a man-eater like the champ but he has the asset which finally will spell defeat for the Manassa Mauler—boxing skill.

The average heavyweight is so slow on his feet and with his hands that a bone-cusher with the speed Dempsey has can get to him easily. Gibbons has the speed to keep away from Dempsey for a time at least.

To send home what he has in way of punches between the champ's boring-in sessions.

Gibbon's Mouth Sores Bust Again in Friday's Labors

Shelby, Mont.—The partially healed cold sores on Tommy Gibbons' lower lip were split open on Friday, and the challenger's mouth was bleeding when he ended his workout. Jimmy Delaney watched Gibbons in the face, as they came out of a clinch, and the sores, which kept Gibbons from working out on Wednesday, were opened.

Gibbons was not bothered by the bleeding on Friday and continued his sparring. He declared later that the sores would be entirely healed within a few days and probably would not be tender next week.

HEARS THE PRETTY BIRDIES VIA DEMPSEY'S C O S OCK

Great Falls, Mont.—"Big Ben" Vray of Sayre, Oklahoma, weighing 250 pounds and standing seven feet two inches today is the world's doubtful distinction of having been put out of commission for a longer period than any other boxer who ever dropped punches with Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion.

A broken jaw, sustained from a left hook, just 23 seconds after Vray faced the champion at his journey of 2,000 miles to engage Dempsey in a training camp bout will keep the Oklahoma giant out of the ring for at least eight months, according to the physician who attended him.

Vray, a former cowboy and oil rigger down in Oklahoma, had been seeking a match with Dempsey for several weeks, convinced that the heavyweight champion could not knock him over. He came here against the best wishes of his manager, Tex McCarthy, who had been knocked out himself in a few punches by Dempsey, in 1915.

It will be the big stiff fight, was all the consolation McCarthy offered the fallen gladiator.

Ottawa Harness Races Gather 200

New London, Conn.—Sweeping with deadly precision down the four mile course Yale's crew Friday defeated Harvard by five full lengths in the annual classic between the two universities. The race was decided in rough water against a high wind and the time was, Yale, 22 minutes, 10 seconds; Harvard, 22 minutes, 55 seconds. After war with powerful strokes, Yale jumped into a lead of one length, which was reduced to a half length at the turn.

Yale Crew Is Winner

Ottawa, Ill.—The entry lists for the two weeks of racing here which start next Tuesday, were closed with the largest number in the history of the Illinois Valley circuit. Nearly 200 horses are entered and the fair grounds already is filled with the overflow.

There will be four days of racing next week, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The half mile track will be in great condition.

H. C. Beatty of Carrollton will officiate as starting judge, while C. W. Irion, Ottawa, will be presiding judge.

SOME OF THE RECENT IMPORTANT EVENTS OF THE WORLD TOLD IN PICTURES ON THIS PAGE

With the national convention still months away shrewd political strategists of the Democratic party already are laying plans to corral enough delegates to wield a balance of power if the convention becomes deadlocked as it most surely will under the two-thirds rule which prevails. Tammany Charlie Murphy is reported to be planning an alliance with Senator Oscar Underwood and this may develop into a four power entente including Tom Taggart of Indiana and George Brennan of Illinois. In the event that Underwood can't win the nomination and Tammany's Al Smith can't this four power alliance might throw their strength to Senator Samuel M. Ralston, a dark horse, and put him over.

Flood scenes in Oklahoma City.

With low outlying sections of the city under water and an unprecedented rush of water pounding at the city reservoir, ten miles west, Oklahoma City is prepared for the worst of the worst flood in the history of the city. The reservoir dam across the Canadian river valley, which every spring impounds the city's water supply for the year, has resembled a giant waterfall. Although the dam itself was said to be in no danger, the embankment separating the by-pass from the huge reservoir lake, was under water, and a torrent twenty-four inches deep, was spilling into the lake. The flood has lasted many days.

Miss Violet Johnstone, forty, Brooklyn, N. Y. has just been awarded $50,000 heart balm from Dr. Karl Connell, prominent physician of Omaha, Neb. Miss Johnstone filed her suit three days after the marriage of Dr. Connell to an Omaha society woman. Miss Johnstone asserted that she and the doctor were friends from 1904 to 1920.

Over $1,000,000 worth of oil was destroyed, several lives endangered and enormous property damaged was caused by an oil fire at the plant of the Atlantic Refining Company in Pittsburg. A bolt of lightning struck one of 200 tanks and started a fire. A series of explosions caused by scores of tanks bursting, handicapped the fire fighters in their work and threatened the lives of the workers. Pittsburg's entire apparatus was called upon.

Fifty-foot schooner "Mary Beatrice," on which coolies battled crew to death, moored at New York.

British and American authorities are investigating the gruesome tale of the fifteen starving Chinese who drifted into New York on the blood-spattered schooner "Mary Beatrice." The coolies told how they battled for their lives when the crew attacked them with belaying pine and marlin spikes after they had refused to pay more cash to be smuggled into the U. S. They claim to have killed two attackers. They had paid "bribe money before sailing.

Above, view of Mt. Etna taken during a previous eruption; below, closeup of the crater now spouting fire and lava.

Thirty thousand villagers living on the slopes of Mt. Etna, in Sicily have been driven from their homes by the latest eruption of the volcano. Molten lava flowing down the mountain side is wiping out, slowly but inexorably, villages, forests and vineyards. Soldiers and fascists have removed all residents from the danger area.

Sicily lies under a smoke pall as the crater continues to emit ashes and tons of cinders, rock and lava. The countryside for twenty miles around is covered with a layer of ashes an inch deep. From time to time more eruptions are breaking forth on the western slopes of the mountain.

Hints for the Motorist

Copyright, 1923, by The International Syndicate

Closed Cars And Exhaust Poisoning

If Exhaust Odors Are Noticeable Within A Car, Look Out For Gas Leaks

NEWSPAPER ACCOUNTS of ill effects suffered by persons driving in closed cars and ascribed to the presence therein of exhaust gases have recently been going the rounds and, it is to be feared, may have created an exaggerated idea of the danger arising from this source. No doubt, if exhaust gas is allowed to enter the body space of a closed car, in large volumes, when inadequate ventilation is provided, especially when the engine is operating with incomplete combustion of its charges, a passenger who remains in the car for a considerable length of time might be seriously affected by carbon monoxide gas. Fortunately, the occurrence of such dangerous conditions is readily guarded against as the only way that poisonous gas can enter the body space is from leaks in the exhaust system. Leaky connections between the exhaust manifold and the exhaust pipe or cylinder ports or a crack in the piping may cause the escape of gas, which can enter the body through pedal or lever slots, and a leaky heater connection or a crack in the metal of a heater or its piping may let gas directly into the body space, but if the exhaust system throughout is kept gas tight, no danger from gas poisoning need be feared. Good ventilation of the body space and avoidance of unnecessarily rich mixtures are additional safeguards.

A CHATTERING CLUTCH

X. writes: "When I throw my Ford car from low to high gear, it chatters for a short distance and then runs all right and, when climbing a hill in high gear, it also chatters when the speed of the engine dies down. What is the trouble and how can I fix it?"

Answer: This chattering is the result of the irregular slipping of the clutch when a heavy load is placed upon it, as it is when high gear is first engaged and on steep up-grades. Try adjusting the clutch a little tighter and see what the effect is. To do this, remove the transmission cover, remove the cotter keys from each clutch finger and give the set-screw of each one half or a whole turn to the right with a screw-driver, then replace the cotter keys in each finger. Try one half turn first and see if this does not stop the chattering. If it does not, you better have this transmission looked over at a service station.

NEW RINGS PROVE A FAILURE

W. S. D. writes: New piston rings have been put into my engine, but it pumps oil so badly that it will hardly run and also overheats. Why is this?

Answer: The most obvious explanation is that the new rings not only do not conform accurately enough with the cylinder bore to seal the pistons, but that they are fitted so inaccurately that they bind excessively at some points thus producing abnormal frictional heat. This may not be necessarily the fault of the person who installed them, for if the cylinder bores are scored or seriously out of true, it is practically impossible to fit rings so as to seal the pistons satisfactorily. If your cylinders and pistons are all right, a proper set of rings will give you good results, but not otherwise, and a poor job of ring fitting will never prove satisfactory.

SUBSTITUTING BATTERY SYSTEM FOR MAGNETO.

J. W. J. writes: My car is a 1922 and it is very hard to keep the engine hitting on all four cylinders. Some people tell me that the missing is an ignition trouble, and advise me to change from the magneto which I have to a battery system. What advice can you give me?

Answer: If your engine has good compression in all its cylinders, and its plugs keep clean, the missing is presumably due to faulty ignition, assuming that your carburetor is properly adjusted, and the fuel system is functioning all right. If the engine continues to miss after you have checked up the points above mentioned, we should advise you to take the magneto to a first-class electrical service station, and have them test it out thoroughly, and, if they find it defective, make the necessary repairs upon it. You should obtain perfect ignition from this magneto when it is in running order, and just as good service as you would from any battery system which you could install.

Are you giving Your children's future the consideration it deserves?

Dear little kiddies, brought into this world with that inborn desire for home comforts, home environment and home protection. To them Home means their world, a place of paradise, purity and peace, where all their complaints, hurts and sorrows are tenderly smoothed and banished by the loving embrace and sweet lullaby of their fond mothers, and where Father's love, and Mother's smiles, Sister's embrace and Brother's welcome are looked for and received with pride. Home then means a place that holds and binds family ties, weaving about each heart tender thoughts of love and confidence.

Appreciating fully all of this, fathers and mothers should make it possible for their children to refer and look back to their childhood days as being surrounded with ideal home protection, environments and home thoughts that does most to create confidence, right thinking and contentment. Providing homes that reflect comfort, cheerfulness and sanitary conveniences, properly arranged for play and pleasures is not only a privilege but a duty, and should be the one big thought and accomplishment foremost in the minds of every family. Simply providing an existing place, a rented house with no feeling of permanency, where new acquaintances and meaningless things are a constant source of confusion, is an injustice.

DREAMING OF HOME

There are dreams we dream in the days of youth,
That are wonderful dreams of joy,
For there comes no dream like the hopes that gleam
Through the heart and mind of a boy.
But the dearest dream of the dreams we dream,
As the tangled paths we roam,
Is the dream that appears in the later years
When we dream our dream of a home.

Is it not then the duty of every parent to rightly train their children, to instil into their minds love for home and all that ideal homes stand for, to make them realize and know that your thoughts and labors are concentrated on efforts that will make of them worth-while men and women? For the boys and girls of today will be either leaders or followers of the future, and it is your teachings and the home life you create for them that will develop the future citizens, that you have obligated yourself to rear. Make your children's future secure—provide for them a home that will reflect your good intentions and ambition for them and their future.

THE DISTINCTIVE HOME PLAN

is one of the most popular of the late Colonial designs. Simplicity of detail is reflected in its every line. The exterior wall construction is of stucco applied over wood or metal lath, tile, brick or composition plaster boards.

A peek at the interior will show compactness of room arrangements in which are included every conceivable modern labor and time saving convenience.

Surely a home so carefully planned with both exterior and interior developed to give those who adopt it to build from the best looking and most convenient arrangement for money expended, will be given the consideration it deserves. We will be glad to tell you more about this charming home plan.

Build an ideal home of your own—create an atmosphere of attractiveness around your present home. After this lend your financial support in helping some one else acquire a home. Mortgage loans are the safest and surest of investments and in addition to the security you will be helping in a movement that will mark you a real benefactor, a citizen with the highest moral code of ideals.
